Harvard University holds an annual debate conference in Hyderabad India as well as Beijing, China, as the only two international editions apart from their own national conference in Boston, USA. Because of my collective experience of debate for the past 6 years, I participated in these 2 fully sponsored conferences (by Harvard International Relations Council) as an Assistant Director, a part of their Executive Board to moderate debate in several simulated UN committees. The conference in Beijing was in the week of March 13-20th of 2018, and Hyderabad was 12th to 16th August of 2017. The Directors of the conference are all final year Harvard students, from all streams- Pre-Medical, Physics, Law, Mathematics, etc. and the conference is spent discussing topics ranging from humanitarian violations, lawmaking, healthcare policies, disarmament contingencies and international relations, peace and cooperation.

I first participated in the conference in the August of 2016 (a month before joining BVDUMC), as a delegate participating in the debate and won the 2nd prize, after which I joined their team as a member of their Executive Board, which moderates and organises the debate, which is why the conferences, hotel stay etc. were fully sponsored.
